Clarkites Remember Outstanding Moments

Bob Kelderman, a loyal booster contemplates the game after the stands are empty.

Time is of the essence. As the sands of time slip gradually away, our year, 1966, draws to a close. During twelve school years, a personality has developed; an individual has formed; all bear the inevitable marks of time. We recall these years with mingled emotions; some of us feel a satisfied thrill when we review the memories of these well-spent years; others, with a new resolve, decide to be more constructive in the future. None of us are completely contented with the successes we have attained, for we continue to look ahead optimistically while looking back objectively. We have realized past mistakes and successes are the best criteria for future experiences. We have put our memories to practical use; this is learning.

Our Profile Encompasses Every Hour

An atmosphere of concentration prevails during a typical auditorium study hall.

Announcing the half-time show during football season is a trying experience for Miss Jean Knapp.

1966 — a year all of us will remember. Seniors will recall it as the year of graduation; as the year when new experiences and a new way of life began. Freshmen will remember 1966 as their first venture into an adult world, a world of many problems, but a world of boundless fun. Sophomores and Juniors will realize that this year was a year of insight, a year that brought the realization of responsibility and an understanding of one's inner self.

1966 was a typical year with 365 days, but each day of this singular year acts as a bit of color to add to the multifarious mosaic of our memories. We'll remember homeroom with its unceasing chatter of daily affairs, we'll remember the bustling halls and our annoyance at being continually jostled, we'll remember the Up and Down stairs, the lectures of our teachers, and the hands of the clock that seemed to move only an infinitesimal distance.

We'll remember the smiles of that certain someone and the cheery 'hellos' of our friends. We'll recall with pride the efforts of our teams and our booster sections at games. We'll remember the fun we had at dances and how we all loved assemblies. The final ring of the ninth hour bell and the bus we just missed will stay in our minds forever. We'll remember the lonely halls after everyone else has gone home. We'll never forget 1966, our year.

Of The Day, Every Day Of The Year

The enthusiasm of Clark boosters explodes as we regain a precarious lead in a vital game.

Intense concentration lights the faces of Mr. Church's choral students during the Christmas Concert.

The blooming of Clark's magnolia tree heralds the arrival of spring.

We Remember Homecoming As

Homecoming is the highlight of the school year. An almost magical atmosphere captivates the minds and spirit of both students and faculty. All phases of Clark school activity join together to produce a successful Homecoming Weekend.

With Disneyland being the 1965 theme, the talented Seniors presented a hilarious skit adapted from Disney's 'Mary Poppins'. The loud-mouthed and spirited Seniors also managed to capture first in the yell contest. Almost every club or group sponsored a lavish float in the Homecoming parade preceding the game. The Pioneers lost the game to the

The traditional Homecoming skit, the yell contest, the parade, the floats, and the game all contributed to another successful, enthusiastic 1965 Homecoming. This year's activities exemplified the unity of all Clarkites as everyone did his vital part to add to the Homecoming spirit.

We Added To Our Memories As We Danced

This Senior Trio indulges in a fast number to a swinging tune at one of the popular Clark Dances while carrying on busy conversations.

School clubs sponsored sock hops and shoe dances at which teams whirled with perfect rhythm. The ever-popular Clark dances increased in favor with the students this year as bands provided most of the entertainment. Newly-formed bands supplied music for many dances, as Clark students passed judgment upon these musical groups.

Enthusiasm still ran high at the Homecoming dance, even though the Pioneers were defeated in this all-important game. Clark spirit could not be crushed.

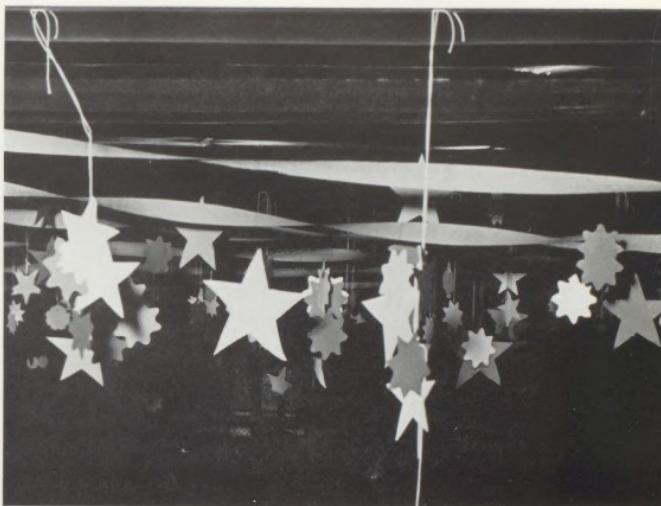

Knowing that "Yesterday's Gone", these two couples dance to music provided by the "Kritters" at the Senior class dance. Their faces express the wonder and enjoyment of a memorable evening.

And Had Fun

as was shown at this dance.

The senior class dance, "Yesterday's Gone" proved a time when dancing was mixed with many happy memories of high school days. Seniors reminisced about the past, and underclassmen looked forward to their happy future.

The various club and class dances are always a scene of wonder as Clarkites find pleasure and fun. We also find sadness as the school year ends and the memories of weekend hours of dancing fade.

Colored stars and paper snowflakes adorned the gym and set a memorable mood for the Senior Class Dance, "Yesterday's Gone."

Swinging to "the frug" and "the jerk" are only two of the many dances in which Clarkites find pleasure and relaxation.

Assemblies Provide Exciting Entertainment

Clarkites saw what assemblies were like from their seats in the audience, but few were aware of the unseen factors which helped the assemblies run as smoothly as they did.

AVO members set up microphones, and Stage Crew members added special lighting effects. Mr. Arthur Erickson aided speakers by giving them signals to speak more clearly or loudly. Assemblies at Clark are truly cooperative measures.

An assembly is always a welcome addition to our school program. This year, as always, everyone cooperated to make our assemblies part of a memorable year.

The broken-hearted Prince Garry (Scott Kraly) tearfully admits the fact that he has no playmates in Lockey Land during the Sectional Skit.

During an unforgettable assembly the characteristics and habits of snakes were illustrated by Sylvia, the python.

For A Variety Of Student Interests

The Second Annual Latin Club Talent Show was held this year. This event brings out the showmanship qualities in many Clark students. Suppressed talents are brought to light before the entire student body. Great musicians and dancers are discovered in our auditorium. Clarkites eagerly look forward to these performances by their fellow students.

We expectantly viewed the Student Council inaugurations, National Honor Society initiations, and landed the recipients of honors at the Awards Assembly.

Rehearsing for the Latin Club talent show, Senior Scott Kraly plays one of the popular songs performed by the "Squires" as he strives for perfection.

Queen Momsie (J. Bennett) King Popsie (R. Sandrick) and Prime Minister Daugherty (B. Westerfield) discuss the problems of Lockey Land and endeavor to find suitable remedies which they can apply to the future.

The Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Music Departments worked hard as individual groups and as a unit to provide their audiences with enjoyable concerts of contemporary and classical music.

The band played its customary Winter and Spring Concerts. Both were well attended and featured the talented individual players as well as the band as a whole. On April 26 the Indiana State Band was presented in an effort to aid the uniform fund.

The Orchestra presented a concert in February with a panorama of American music and several dance numbers featured.

The Choral Department gave Fall and Spring Concerts to overflow crowds. Part of their success was due to skillfully staged numbers by Miss Jeani Knapp.

Traveling Far And Wide We Expanded Our

The magnificent Capitol allowed Clark students to realize the might and force of our government and they were impressed by awesome history-in-the-making.

The Statue of Liberty was an inspiring sight for Clarkites who viewed the symbol of freedom for the first time.

The depressing sight of President Kennedy's grave brought to mind the tragic assassination of a great man, symbolized by an eternal flame.

Clarkites viewed North and Central America during the Annual Washington-New York and the first-time, but successful, Mexico trip.

In Washington, students were impressed with the rich and glorious history of our country and with the history in-the-making there now. They toured the White House, Arlington National Cemetery, Lincoln Memorial, the Capitol building and the Washington Monument.

In New York, the many facets of American living passed before the eyes of the wayfarers. They discovered that there are not few, but many ways of living in our nation. Students saw the U.N., the Statue of Liberty, China Town, and the Empire State Building.

The Mexico trip winged its way to new directions in the students thoughts. They learned of the close relationship between the United States and Mexico and the co-existence we now enjoy. Clarkites toured Mexico and religious and cultural centers nearby.

Forum Club sponsors many interesting and educational tours for Clark students. The Mexico trip, the Colorado trip, and the Springfield tour comprised a wealth of new adventure for beginning travelers. Although most Clarkites were starry-eyed over the prospect of travel, they still greatly appreciated the geographical knowledge which they obtained.

Sunny days and gala activities impressed this group of students and faculty with a never-to-be-forgotten Mexican vacation.

Junior Class takes a journey to 'Our Town'

Rebecca Gibbs (Sharon Moskal) and George (Jerry Milligan) silently marvel at the infinity of the universe.

Emily Webb (Cathy Bajda) does homework in her upstairs bedroom.

The class of 1967 dramatized a part of everyday life in "Our Town", a play by Thornton Wilder. The curtain rose on Grovers Corners, New Hampshire, and we were shown the childhood, marriage, and death of Emily Webb, the daughter of the town's newspaper editor.

The first act showed the daily life of the Webbs and their neighbors the family of Dr. Gibbs. In their senior year in high school, Emily and George Gibbs "discovered" each other, and realize that marriage brings sorrow as well as happiness. It brings the loss of youth besides the gaining of maturity. Act two is about love, and marriage, and the sacrifices needed for both. Emily and George find that compromise is the basis of a happy life, and their families discover that it is compromise that has kept them together.

Act three is about death and the value of life. Emily dies in childbirth and finds in death a clarity that she never realized in life. She finds that people never live life for every minute, and she returns to life and finds that knowledge of the future can be the most painful power imaginable.

"Our Town" was an experience that has been lived by everyone at some time. We were drawn into character with the actors, and we experienced the common drama of an everyday, but nevertheless meaningful play.

Enthusiastic Audience Lauds And Will

With a kick of its heels and a spirit of high-jinks, the production High Button Shoes buttoned up and gave its audiences two fun-filled evenings.

Two months of hard work went into its making, but it was also backed by the well-wishings of Miss Jeani Knapp, the cast, the stage crew, and the entire student body. It could have been nothing but a success.

The plot revolves around the efforts of a suave, shady-dealer (Bob Harper) to wrest away the money and the sweetheart (Lois Mrzlock) of a small town. After many failures and a chase scene, he is apprehended. Everyone lives Happily Ever After.

And so, in its old-fashioned way, with a honk from its tandem bicycle and a cough from its Model T, High Button Shoes continued in the successful tradition of Clark theater.

Posing as a picnic lunch, Stevie (Craig Spaulding) excels at eavesdropping.

"Where'd they go?" cry the furious bathers as they undergo a frantic Keystone Cops chase for the swindlers.

Graduation Left Us With Fond Memories

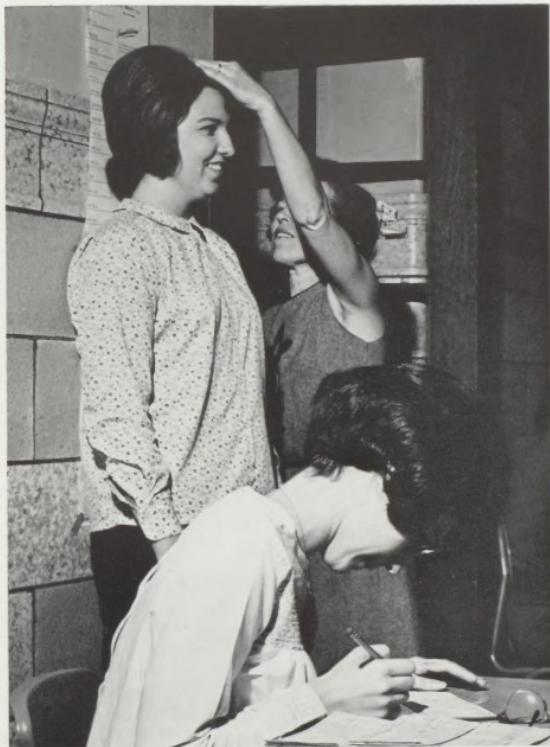

Graduates stand for invocation as they tensely await the long-awaited moment with mixed emotions.

Prospective alumni attentively stand and wait for graduation ceremonies to begin.

Of Our Four Unforgettable Years At Clark

Seniors prepare for graduation as they are carefully fitted for caps and gown.

A Clark graduate proudly accepts his well-earned reward, a high school diploma, the key to a better future.

Graduation meant many things to seniors, but for all it meant the conclusion of four years of hard work and rollicking fun.

At the Senior Banquet, seniors recapitulated four years of memories, laughing at antics as "freshies" and musing over exploits as seniors.

As their last act as seniors, they marched up the aisle and took places on stage for commencement. Each senior proudly received his diploma, slowly flipped his tassel, and departed as an alumnus. With diplomas in hand, they depart to conquer the world and to mold their futures.

The annual prom, a combined effort of sponsors and students, was a complete success this year, as always. It was the product of months of diligent work of the industrious Junior Class.

Ye the Prom, with all its glitter and grandeur, concluded the school year with exciting remembrances for all who attended. Memory books of preceding years bordered the dance floor. This event was truly a 'Prelude to an Ending' as the juniors bade farewell to graduating seniors and hopefully awaited the coming year.

Excited and enthusiastic prom-goers take time out from a busy evening of dancing to admire the beautiful decorations of the Sherwood Country Club.

Clark's well-known marching band provides rousing entertainment during half-time at all football games.

Marching Groups Add Zest To Games

The half-time shows at all Clark football and basketball games were brightened by the cheery music and the clever routines of the marching band, pom-pom corps, and majorettes. These groups under the direction of Mr. Carlyle Snider, Miss Jeani Knapp, and Miss Marion Johnston, worked long hours to polish their performances to the pinnacle of perfection. These shows of near-professional caliber provided entertainment for appreciative Clarkites.

The combined efforts of students, teachers, and athletes made the attendance at each game a memorable and rewarding event.

Clark twirlers D. Dickey and D. Priesol lead the band in the Homecoming parade.

Worthy Students Attend Summer Institutes

Unable to stop the learning process during summer vacation, Clarkites enriched their knowledge and their future at summer institutes and workshops.

Future leaders were given experience at Boys' and Girls' States. Representatives took part in mock state governments and learned some of the intricacies of running government smoothly.

Varsity cheerleaders swapped techniques at cheering camp in Syracuse, Indiana, in classes in tumbling, cheering, and pep assemblies. These classes enabled them to lead effective Homecoming and Sectional pep sessions and to lead cheers at all games while boosting the spirits of the crowds and the teams.

Extensive journalistic study was the foremost goal of 1966 yearbook editors Carol Leskovich and Sharon Granger who spent two informative weeks at I.U.

Organizing pep rallies and perfecting cheering skills dominated the busy week at camp for cheerleaders C. Pajak, L. Polson, D. Krajnak, and L. Dostatni.

Last summer Pat Boguslaw gained newspaper knowledge at an Indiana University News Conference to aid her as assistant editor of the P.N.

While Gaining Valuable Knowledge

Reviewing the Indiana Daily Student was a daily assignment for Joan Paylo who attended a journalism seminar last summer in order to develop skills necessary for the editor of the Pioneer News.

"Always wear a smile" is the motto of apprentice librarians. Barb Spaulding and Janet Duncan set a good example as they find work can be fun.

Pioneer News editors Joan Paylo and Pat Boguslaw and yearbook editors Carol Leskovich and Sharon Granger attended institutes at Indiana University to learn the various aspects of journalism and actual production.

Editor Joan Paylo attended a newspaper workshop to learn editing skills, editorial techniques, and many other useful pointers for running a newspaper. Assistant editor Pat Boguslaw was accepted to the News Conference which consisted of only a select group of high school journalism students.

Powder Horn editor Carol Leskovich participated in a yearbook workshop which stressed the composition of the book and the different technical problems which can occur. Assistant editor Sharon Granger studied copy writing, caption fitting, and editing.

Leadership Conference delegates spent one week at Indiana University studying to become effective leaders. At the same time they became accustomed to life on a college campus.

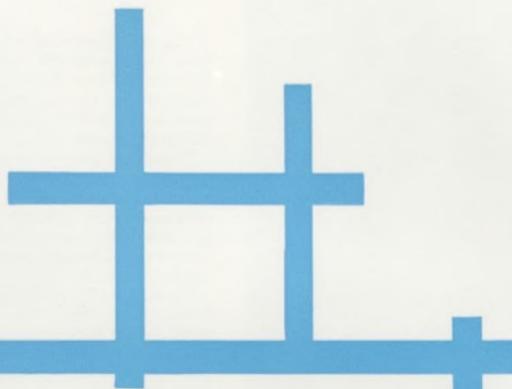

Two student librarians, Janet Duncan and Barb Spaulding, attended the librarians' workshop. They learned to classify books, shelve books, use reference materials and they saw how to keep order and quiet in a library.

In this way our industrious students kept busy by following their interests and responsibilities through the summer months.

Academic Honors Awarded To Deserving

Earning the highest scholastic merit Joan Paylo and Mary Rudser were named valedictorian and salutatorian of the class of 1966.

The valedictorian and salutatorian of the Class of 1966 were Joan Paylo and Mary Rudser. They achieved their high standing with perseverance and diligent effort in academic pursuits.

Miss Elizabeth Lyle was a biology teacher at Clark for twenty years. An annual award for the most outstanding student in biology classes and a memorial shelf of science books have been dedicated to her memory.

Eight senior boys were selected Junior Rotarians to the Hammond Rotary Club, a community service organization. Each delegate individually represented Clark for a one month period at the Rotary Club luncheons held at the Masonic Temple.

The Bausch and Lomb Science Award is given every year to a student who has displayed superior achievement in biology, physics, and chemistry. This year's winner was Joan Paylo. The award made Joan eligible for a five thousand dollar scholarship to the University of Rochester in New York.

Each year a senior girl is honored with the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award for possessing qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. Seniors and faculty members selected Mary Rudser to receive this award. Mary took a three-hour examination on American government and history and attended a tea for local winners. Competition for the award is nationwide. The national winner receives a one thousand dollar scholarship to the college of her choice.

The 1966 DAR Award was presented to Senior Mary Rudser for her outstanding qualities of citizenship.

National Merit Finalists — J. Paylo, B. Forbes. Commended Scholars — C. Leskovich and D. Carlson.

Advanced Math Provides Extensive Challenges

Juniors Jane Ehlers and Tom Yearich understand the importance of precise values in the tedious logarithmic equations of advanced algebra.

Under the supervision of Mr. Emerson Aldrich, head of the math department, college-bound students study two or more of the following subjects: algebra, advanced algebra, geometry, analytic geometry, trigonometry, and college algebra.

In advanced algebra students learn the intricacies of the slide rule and difficult logarithmic equations. Coordinating points of graphs are studied while students draw parabolas and other curves.

Miss Wallace, trigonometry teacher, patiently explained sines, cosines, and tangents to seniors eager for an advanced mathematics background which is vital for further college learning.

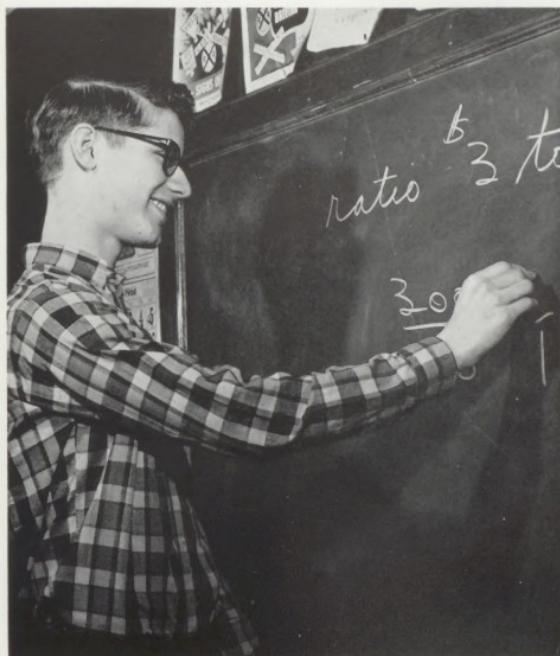

Seniors Cindy Pajak and Bo Jarabak share together one of the few lighter moments that makes trigonometry class challenging yet enjoyable.

Mastering the very challenging operations of the slide rule proves to be a simple task for Mary Burney and Jake Vrabel.

To Students' Youthful Minds

Freshman Algebra introduces a taste of the more involved study of mathematics. Bob Winebarger finds blackboard work helpful in solving problems.

Whether the circles are tangent or concentric it is no problem for Mary Eileen Kacoha who demonstrates her skill in constructions with a compass.

Commercial Math involves more than simple addition. Irene Quigley and Wally Wisniewski attempt to solve a complicated tax problem on the board.

Algebra I introduces students to the theory of equations and axioms of equality. In plane geometry, sophomores learn the importance of geometric laws and construct geometric figures. In advanced algebra, juniors learn to master the slide rule and solve more complex equations. A first semester senior subject, trigonometry aids students in combining their knowledge of geometry and algebra. College algebra students master more advanced methods of solving intricate equations. Analytic geometry deepens students' reasoning.

Biology, Earth Science, And Health Satisfy

To enrich the student's understanding of our relationship with living things is the goal set by our biology teachers.

Many students taking the college preparation course take biology. During the year they study botany, genetics, the cell, embryology and evolution. They also learn how to use and care for the microscope, the tool of the biologist. When studying animals, especially crustacean, dissecting becomes part of the course of study.

General Science is also offered. This subject covers a broader curriculum; however, subject matter is not as thoroughly discussed as in biology.

Mary Csiga knows the answer! Students are urged to participate in classroom discussions for learning must be cooperative for mutual benefit.

Through the modern facilities of our biology department, interested students gain needed experience by using the newly acquired autoclave sterilizer.

The microscope is one facet in the study of biology. These students tackle this task with the enthusiasm needed in order to fulfill the assignment.

Inquisitive And Interested Minds

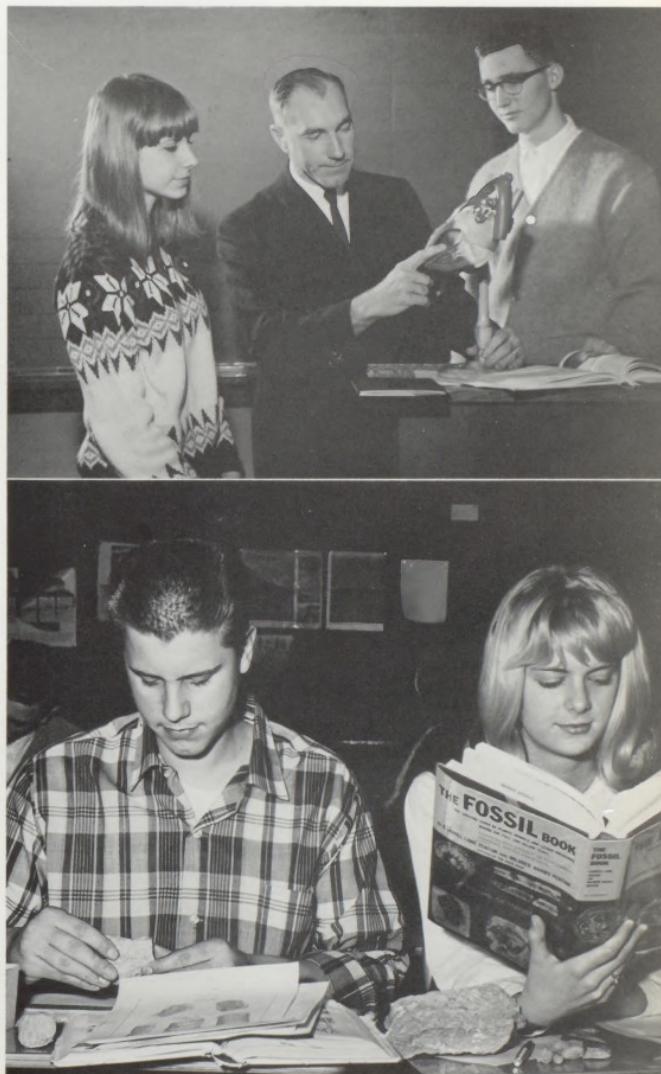

The functions of the heart are explained to Bette Hered and Tom Wood by Mr. Thomas, health instructor.

Health, a required course, is intended to give students an understanding of the functioning of their bodies and the knowledge needed to keep them functioning correctly. They study their health in relation to anatomy, the workings of the internal organs, and to physiology, the study of the relation of the body parts. The class uses visual aids, charts, models of various organs and George, the skeleton, to provide a total picture.

Earth Science, an elective taught by Miss Wanda Wilharm, is a comprehensive study of the planet on which we live. Students in Earth Science classes learn about the earth in relation to the universe; weather in relation to geology; the moon and the tides; the sun and the seasons; and the patterns of the planets. They learn about the past through the various strata of soil and through fossils. Thus they gain a useful and working knowledge of their environment.

In the study of Earth Science, students can encompass all of the sciences while getting a total and focused picture of each in accordance with its importance.

Earth Science students learn the value of a working knowledge of the past, combined with their knowledge of basic biology.

Advanced Sciences Intrigue And

Physics and chemistry, the laboratory sciences, are a challenge to those juniors and seniors who accept their responsibility. Their study can be rewarded by a successfully completed experiment, a high test score, or a clearly seen concept.

Physics is the study of the principles of the material world around us. Its concepts are regular, its findings in accordance with the rules of a well-ordered universe. Students study the swinging of a pendulum and the nature of sound waves, inertia and the horsepower of a moving object. Instructed by Mr. Oral Watkins, the students enter a world of new but familiar concepts and precise but world-important goals.

Although comprehension of a difficult idea takes much diligence and concentration, an understanding of the world around them is the reward of physics students.

Junior Jerry Milligan carefully examines the intricate parts of the engine and their functions to fulfill a needed physics requirement.

Challenge College-Bound Students

Chemistry student, Dan Carlson, heats a compound in a water bath to prepare it for quantitative analysis.

Are their heads bowed in prayer? No, these industrious physics students are tensely calculating the results of a difficult class experiment.

Chemistry is the study of the structure of matter. Chemists deal with the minuscule and the microscopic. They explore the physical world in terms of the movements of an atom. In a chemistry lab, students find data to support the theories they learn in class and learn the precision necessary for proper results. Under the guidance of Mr. John Wisemiller, students discover principles and concepts which will enrich their understanding of the universe.

During the year chemistry students collected and tested for oxygen. They performed a quantitative titration, a quantitative analysis, and compared color intensities of solutions.

Assortment Of Languages Allows Students

Under the direction of Mrs. Calvert, the advanced German Class not only studies the language but also the German people, customs, and traditions.

Through the use of records, films, and tape recordings, Latin students acquired an appreciation of language and style. Many Latin words, quotations, and mottoes used in every day English were thoroughly studied. Mrs. Wilcox stressed words derived from Latin to increase the pupil's understanding of medical, judicial, and musical terms. During their study of Latin, students formed reading acquaintances with every great Roman from the wolf that raised Romulus to the Emperor Caligula.

The advanced Latin student, with applied and patient work from the very beginning of Latin introduction, can easily translate the difficult poetic works of Virgil.

Advanced Spanish students tackle complicated sentence structure and enhance their knowledge of the literature of Spain.

To Discover Heritage Of Other Lands

Latin can be fun and interesting at the same time. This principle is sustained by Jean Bangert who combines her oratorical skill with her knowledge of Latin.

German students were urged to acquire a vivid realization of the language and culture of the motherland. Mrs. Calvert channeled student interest to the finer points of this language through the study of maps, reports, foreign newspapers, and background information. After months of vocabulary study, the advanced German class can find classwork interesting and exciting as they converse fluently in German.

For the first time in Clark's history, Russian has been added to the curriculum. Pupils attending special evening classes have become acquainted not only with the Russian language, but also with the Russian culture.

The entire language department hopes to continue in its present course as well as develop further student progress.

French, an established foreign language at Clark is still greeted with enthusiastic response. The language lab was used in conjunction with records, background study, and regular textbook preparation. Miss Sauvain instructs pupils to read all types of French literature, from magazines to novels, in an effort to increase a student's knowledge of the language.

Grammar content and usage were important musts in Spanish. First year pupils used grammar to present skits; second year pupils wrote themes entirely in Spanish; third and fourth year students learned to understand the Spanish people by studying their cultural background and customs. Mrs. Encinosa, a native Cuban, added many interesting lectures, discussions, films, folk songs, and recordings to the classroom routine.

Miss Sauvain urges the advanced French class to read French literature in order to improve ability to speak the language and to understand correct usage.

Will the real Mr. Pickwick please stand up? Students in Mrs. Gates' advanced composition classes present varied interpretations in original skits of Charles Dickens' pompous, ridiculous Mr. Pickwick.

English Enables Students To Gain Proficiency

The Pickwick women gossip busily while relating the scandals which have occurred in a typical day portrayed in the Pickwick Papers.

Through communication man is able to express himself to others. In order to do this in an accurate and concise manner, one must have proper knowledge. Today's modern world offers many forms of communication, many of which can be found in Clark's English Department. From the very introduction of simple English usage to the advanced composition classes, an interested Clark student would greatly benefit from the patient teaching of our English staff. So it is, as years go by, we find eager students with books in hand heading for their world of knowledge — their English classes.

Students begin in their freshman year to learn to apply their thoughts to the confining forms of sentences and paragraphs. They learn the rudiments of the language and begin to discover through this knowledge the great literature of our language.

Mrs. Cougill holds the interest of her students while enriching their literary backgrounds and explaining the fundamentals of grammar.

In the sophomore year, students enter the versatile world of public speaking. The main objective of this class is to give the student poise before a group. This is accomplished through experience in informative speeches, pantomimes, descriptive speeches, persuasive speeches and others.

In junior English, the student begins to study the intricacies of the language, especially in the written form. The junior year is the year of themes, creative ideas as written down. Contemporary literature is examined in depth and from many angles; from this students learn some of the turnings of their own minds.

In the senior year our learning culminates in the great expressions of famous authors and poets and in our own "great thoughts".

We become "mighty Pioneers" through our ability to speak, read and comprehend.

In Fluent Speech

English students learn to interpret plays, and poetry, and novels by means of interesting lectures in Miss Lambert's English classes.

Lance Rusnak emphasizes his point while gaining poise in delivering a speech.

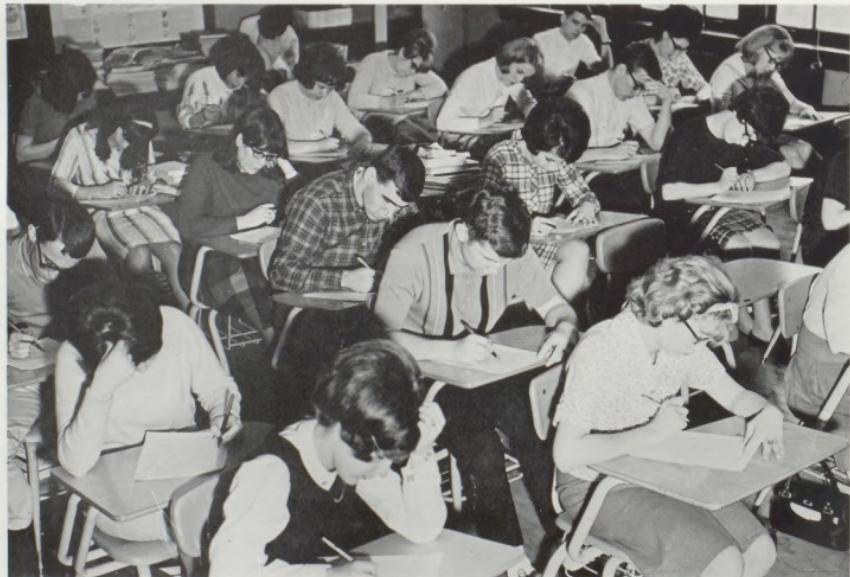

Modern

Students in Mr. Erickson's class view educational television in order to supplement their reading materials and class discussions.

Realizing the importance of a basic knowledge of government and economics, the state requires all high school students to pass courses in the study of these subjects. With this knowledge students will be able to interpret and distinguish between various world governments. Economic and social problems will be understood and students will then be able to propose basic solutions to problems which have been plaguing our society for centuries.

A challenging test about the fundamentals of insurance keeps seniors well occupied during their economics class.

Facilities Utilized In Learning Recent Events

Reading current periodicals aids social studies students in broadening their background of world events.

Three main topics discussed in Mr. Erickson's and Mr. Charlet's government classes this year were the meaning of democracy, the nature of our government, and the function of an American and his government. Extra articles and magazines supplemented the textbook. After covering the complexities of our federal system, the classes proceeded to government on the state and local levels. Besides studying democracy, government students learned of other forms of socialism, Fascism. Comparisons and contrasts were drawn between the different systems and the student was able to see advantages and disadvantages clearly.

Mr. Majcher taught the economics classes. Students studied gross national product and the problems of production, distribution, and consumption. In addition to class lectures, up-to-date reports were given daily by students. Economic students analyzed the stock market and its trends and contemplated the advantages of different types of insurance.

Abstract art can be compared to the many abstract ideas which seniors absorb in Mr. Erickson's comprehensive government classes.

Maps, Films, Periodicals Supplement

Charts and illustrations can act as complements to daily lectures. It looks like Mr. Heslin agrees with this policy as he lectures in class.

Clark's history and geography classes studied in depth the challenging aspects of world history and their relationship with the natural features of the earth.

Through the relentless efforts of our interested and dedicated teaching staff, Clark students find their history and geography classes rewarding.

Under the guidance of Mr. Preusz and Mr. Heslin, sophomores delved into man's advancements from the paleolithic era to the automotive era. They analyzed the cause and effects of World War I and World War II and pondered the probability of a third world conflict.

Mr. Roman and Mr. Preusz sought to enlighten juniors with facts about our own nation's past. They studied the development of our country from its simple beginnings to its ultra-modern present. With increasing emphasis being placed on modern history, students became acutely aware of the present political, social, and economic problems.

History can be an interesting subject. Mr. Roman attempts to channel student interest to history while they attend class.

Lectures, Discussions, Class Work

The significant role which geography plays in world history was explained by Mr. Mueller and Mr. Majcher. After studying the geographical sections of the United States, students were able to relate economic and social facets to natural facets such as topography and climate.

The different climates of the world were discussed and the heritage and traditions of foreign lands were related to their physical factors. Geography is vital to a good school curriculum and Clark students were entranced daily by romantic places which they have never seen.

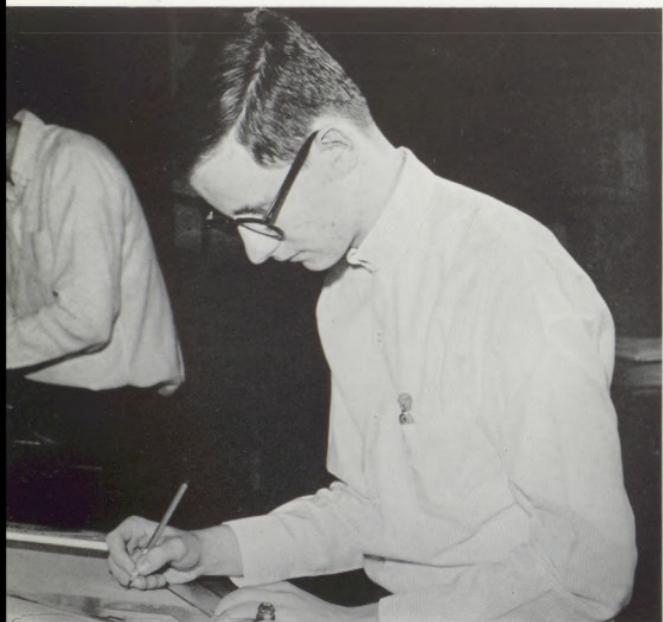

Concern for the world around us is evident in our social studies department as illustrated by interested students, Sandi Pataky and Bud Kussy.

A bit of humor peps up one of Mr. Mueller's lectures. This situation is one reason the department retains its popularity.

Fine Arts Curriculum Offer Students Chance

Mechanical drawing offers a challenge to Junior Jerry Piskorowski who skillfully creates perfect geometric figures with only a pencil and a T-square.

Mechanical drawing is essential for every person who plans to have a home, an office, or any structure built under his direction, not just for architects.

In mechanical drawing, boys (and girls) learn of course, to read and design blueprints and to make sketches and layouts of their work. However there are underlying objectives: logical thinking, visualization of one's work, illustration of thoughts. It is a science useful in almost any field of endeavor, from building a ten-story building to conserving space in a kitchen.

Mechanical drawing is also a field with room for creativity and expansion of thought. Like writing, it allows for the expression of personal ideals and objectives and gives students a chance to design something of true originality.

Clark students with the help of the excellent teaching department are well-prepared for future vocations and college studies.

Concise evaluation and appraisal of fellow students' work is an essential quality of the mechanical drawing student.

To Express Their Natural Talents

Art class gives Clarkites an opportunity to think creatively. Jim Florek and George Janiec display originality in metal craft.

Clark students expressed many aspects of creativity in various elective courses.

Homemaking and cooking classes teach the right way to handle a souffle or a situation and the way to make motherhood a fulfilling lifetime job.

Sewing for economies sake or for "something different" is the motive for taking sewing classes.

Art classes allow students to paint, draw or sculpt and drain excess energy into creative channels.

The elective courses in our curriculum offer ample opportunity for valuable experience and future needs for private or even public uses.

Displaying their completed art work, Chris Sutter and Cathy Bissett show their thorough enjoyment of creativity.

Hard work and concentration are necessary for the Concert Choir so that perfect blends and pitches can be obtained.

For the business-minded student, there is a variety of business courses offered at Clark. A student completing the regular four-year business course is well-trained for any number of jobs in the business world. Typing is one of the most popular and useful courses offered, since all students, regardless of the course they pursue, find typing essential. For the girl looking forward to a secretarial position, shorthand is a must. Speed and accuracy are the goals of future stenographers. Future secretaries find that shorthand proficiency is invaluable in the business world and the secretary with speed and accuracy will never have to search for a job. Shorthand students also find that a cheery personality and a helpful attitude are vital to business success. Business machines and filing are both studied in the same semester. These courses round out a fundamental stenographic or bookkeeping course and give the girls added

Unlimited Business Facilities Offer Useful

Accuracy and speed are the aims of every transcription student. Girls learn to work well while working for speed.

versatility on the job. Business law provides an insight into the rules and legal procedures which govern any business. General business and commercial math give students the fundamentals they will need for the more advanced courses. Consumer problems deals with advertising and budgeting, while the bookkeeping classes prepare students for a career in accounting. Bookkeeping skills are very useful in household budgeting tasks for future life.

Typist Mary Ann Jacewicz finds that patience and perseverance are needed factors in preparing errorless papers.

Opportunities For Future Vocations

Working laboriously on expert proficiency in Gregg shorthand are juniors Gloria Miterko and Cindy Jurbala.

Girls, Boys Master Practical Talents For

The home economics curriculum offered students, both male and female, an opportunity to establish a basic foundation in some of the useful lifetime skills.

Learning to prepare nutritious and delicious meals is one of the tasks undertaken by culinary students. They experienced "kitchen clean-up" as well as table setting, manners, and food serving.

All facets of cooking are probed by Clark's Chefs. Food prices are compared so that economy can be practiced. Efficient food preparation with limited waste are the goals for which cooking students strive. Manners are practiced and correct food serving is studied. Table decor is also important for the beauty of the table must match the beauty of the food.

Boys are now infiltrating the housewife's haven to be welcomed with open arms when clean-up duty draws near. Bob Kelderman dries dishes!

How the world needs good cooks! Iris Fanno and Paulette Perdock hope to enter the elite society of superior gourmets.

Rewarding Benefits And Ambitions

To enjoy sewing, to make practical things, and to acquire sewing skills are the aims of a beginning sewing student.

Clothing II students learn to alter the "look" of a basic dress with the use of various accessories.

Dressy dresses, suits, and coats were a few of the pursuits of the Clothing III and advanced clothing students.

Most important of all the student learned what type of garment would be best suited for herself. A person's personality is determined by what he or she wears. A person's appearance improves with the excellent guidance of Miss Nordvig.

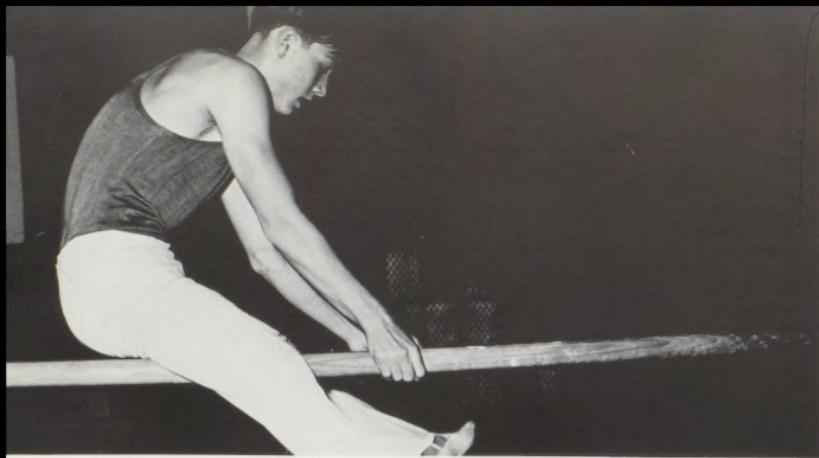

Extreme care to lay out the pattern exactly on the straight of the material is taken by Frosh Patty Gaylor and Junior Karen Hayes.

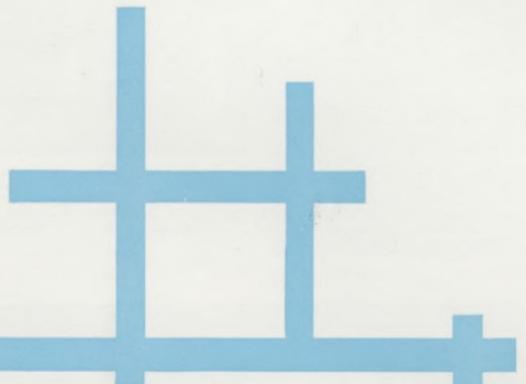

Sewing is a very beneficial art. Carol Schmidt and Wendy Hickman work very diligently on their garments in order to obtain perfection as Miss Nordvig gives a helping hand.

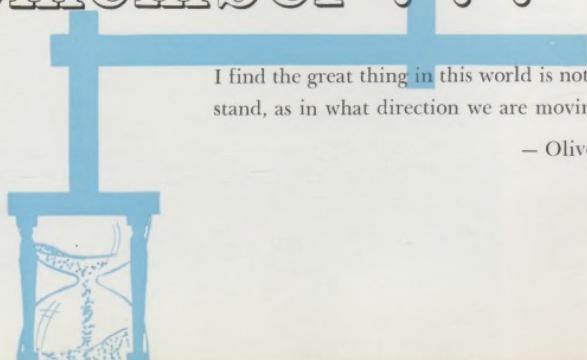

After four semesters of very rewarding clothing instruction, Junior Rosie Tomko accomplishes her final sewing project, a spring coat.

Successful Activities Sponsored By

This year the Student Council sponsored a food drive to stock Community Center 'Food Cupboard' in Hammond's urban renewal district and printed Student Directories as a non-profit service for the student body. The Council introduced the first 'Tug-O War' along with the already established basketball, bowling, and volleyball. A major project undertaken by the Council was the reactivation of the Student Review Board. Through this Board of eight members, the students are allowed to 'govern themselves,' thus solving many disciplinary infractions more effectively.

With the help of the student body, the Student Council, under the able direction of Scott Kraly, can look back on another successful year. New innovations again illustrated how much a student council can really accomplish for a school and student body.

Talent Show Increases Latin Club Treasury

The Latin Club was again divided, because of its large membership, into three divisions: the freshman, the sophomore, and the advanced clubs.

Working together, the three clubs began the year with the popular bake sale. Besides raising money, the bake sale give students a chance to eat in class with the approval of the teacher!

During the Christmas holiday season, Latin Club joined the three other foreign language clubs in celebrating Christmas, or Saturnalia, as the Romans would say. Each club presented a skit and sang songs in its own language. Freshman Latin students were given an opportunity to display their talents for the traditional freshman initiation into the club.

The Talent Show returned for the second time after its enthusiastic premier last year. After passing an audition, anyone could participate in this show.

The Latin Club closed another successful year with the annual banquet.

At the awards' assembly, these seniors were presented with four-year pins: C. Haluska, S. Hammersley, S. Hanusin, B. Kelley, B. Krall, J. Navta, M. Rudser, S. Schmidt, J. Serafin, and M. Westcott.

At all the meetings of the clubs, sponsor Mrs. Lillian Wilson stressed the application of ancient Roman culture to daily life whenever possible.

'Mardi Gras' Sponsored By French Club

When this year's Seniors were introduced into Clark four years ago, so was the French Club. Hard to mature the young club to success, their efforts have not gone unrewarded. Through their experiences in growing along with the new club, these students have gained rich backgrounds and deep insight into French culture. The seniors in this French organization can look back at their accomplishments with satisfaction and pride.

Each year the club delves deeper into the French language and customs. French games are played to stimulate interest in word roots and vocabulary. Films provide geographical knowledge of France. Guest speakers are invited to monthly meetings to give first-hand descriptions of France.

From thirteen original members the club has grown to an astounding fifty members in three years. The club has expanded so rapidly that Miss Sauvain, the sponsor, has found it necessary to divide the club into two meeting sections. The first-year students hold their own meetings and elect their own officers. Diane Gilpin held the office of president this year. Assisting her were Karen Treliński, vice president, and Marilee Ogren, secretary-treasurer. The advanced French club elected Jan Pisowicz to act as president; Helen Stecy, vice president; and Allen Jamrose, secretary-treasurer.

The entire club joined together to sponsor a float in the Homecoming parade. Other activities included a bake sale to provide funds for dinner at a French cuisine in Chicago, a car wash, and a spring dance.

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS — H. Stecy, J. Pisowicz, J. Roy, and A. Jamrose show a great interest in the study of French.

Growing German Club Expands Activities

The ever-growing German Club has also become one of the schools' more active clubs this year. Membership was divided into advanced and freshman clubs, meeting on alternate Wednesdays. Both used tapes, recordings and dialogues to add to their knowledge of Germany and the German language.

German Club journeyed to Chicago to see Dr. Zhivago and to eat at a German restaurant. They presented, in combination with the French Club, a "Mardi Gras" dance, and through the club, interested members were able to get pen pals from Germany.

The purpose of the German Club is to become acquainted with German culture as well as study the German language.

Spanish Club officers Donna Kalina, Terri Johnson, Carol Whyte, and Pam Kelso don traditional calypso hats in preparation for a club function.

The beginning and advanced sections of Spanish Club launched a year of activities by winning first place in the Homecoming parade float competition with a life-sized image of Fernando the Bull.

A new project has been begun by the combined Spanish Clubs. Each year a money-raising activity will be sponsored in order to collect a sizable amount for a future scholarship presented to a deserving Spanish student.

The clubs were once again under the sponsorship of Mrs. Encinosa, a native of Cuba. Both clubs enjoyed listening to her lectures about the lives and customs of Cubans and other Latin American countries.

The Spanish Club held a very successful party for all club members.

Eighty-four members strong, Clark's band spent another busy year. Presenting the annual August concert and two others during the school year, preparing halftime shows for Pioneer football games, marching for Clark in parades, entering solo and ensemble contests, representing Clark in the Hammond Music Festival, and whipping up G.R.C. spirit in pep rallies provides the members with many opportunities for spending their energy.

"Badining for Brasses" and the corresponding "Waggery for Woodwinds" by Walters gave both sections a chance to display their talent in the annual Winter Concert. The stage band, new to Clark this year, and the Dixieland Band were added attractions.

As usual, the Pep Band, upper-class volunteer musicians, boosted Clarkites' spirits with its lively numbers.

Highlighting the Spring Concert was the presentation of the traditional band keys to all the graduating members, and the coveted gold key awarded to the most valuable player, Bette Hered.

The Pom-Pon Corps performed at football and basketball games to add color and enjoyment to the half-time shows. Performing alone or complementing the Band, their entertainment was highly rewarding. Miss Jeani Knapp designs the choreography for this group.

The Pom-Pon Flag Corps, a new innovation, first performed at Homecoming to provide a triumphal arch for the queen and her court.

The Majorettes highlighted half-times at games with their clever routines and precise maneuvers. Miss Marion Johnston sponsored this group.

Concert Orchestra Gains New Director

Clark's Senior High Orchestra is under the new direction of Mr. Charles Meyette. In the fall, the orchestra made its annual trip to Ball State University for the "Weekend for Strings." The Christmas Season was brightened by the orchestra's presentation of a Handel Organ Concerto and Christmas Carols.

The February concert was a contemporary work of American music. The orchestra's repertoire consisted of such numbers as "Carousel", "Wide Missouri", and "Goldfinger", with the "Squires" as an accompaniment. The orchestra is looking forward to a great year with many veterans returning.

Listening attentively to orchestra director Mr. Meyette, bass player Greg Walsko comprehends a difficult musical passage.

The Boys' Chorus harmonize to an old favorite during winter choral concert.

The Choral Department made their first appearance to parents, teachers, and students in a Fall Concert. The department's readiness for this early concert was due partly to the extra allotment of time to choral students. This year all groups met daily for full credit except two sections of the Girl's Chorus. They were led by choral director, Mr. Darrell Church and Miss Amy Lucking, student teacher.

The Fall Concert featured the second annual "Panorama of Popular Music." Narrated by Jim Navta, it covered a variety of songs from musicals, radio, stage and screen.

In December, the Choral Department presented a Holiday

Concert in conjunction with the band and orchestra. In the spring, it featured the staging of selections from Rodgers and Hammerstein's Oklahoma, and selections from Mendelssohn's Elijah.

Boys' Chorus, composed of eighteen members, ambitiously strive to achieve basic fundamentals in music. Girls' Chorus is formed by girls hoping to learn generalizations of music. The Girls' Choir, a more select group, includes those who have mastered basic techniques.

Mr. Darrell Church, the excellent leader of Clark's choral groups, devoted many hours to bringing good entertainment to students, faculty, and parents.

Forum Club Arranges Varied Trips

The Forum Club initiated a new system of representation to create a closer association between members and officers. A Senate, consisting of one representative from each junior and senior homeroom, met with the officers to discuss business and activities.

A successful UNICEF Christmas Card drive was among the club's aid programs. A trip to Mexico was sponsored by Forum Club. Highlighting this trip were tours of Mexico City, where the travelers visited museums, cathedrals, and many other historic sights. This trip was the highlight of a full and busy year. Under the patient and interested guidance of Mr. John Heslin and Mr. Bernard Charlet, a receptive student body was well-traveled this year.

Tracing the route to Colorado, Forum Club president, P. Burkey and Senate members M. L. Jamrose and M. Loden organize the activities of the spring trip.

Boosters Encourage Sportsmanship

A spirited student body, an enthusiastic faculty, and athletic teams with a desire to win brought Clark's Booster Club another successful year. The club published athletic programs for home football games, featuring stories on coaches and senior lettermen.

To signify membership in the Booster Club, students paying their dues were given booster buttons and cards. Another responsibility of the Booster Club was chartering buses to away games. Loyal boosters followed the teams to away games, and fifty upperclassmen and two brave teachers survived a twelve-hour trip to Muncie, Indiana to back the "Pioneer" basketball team.

Students Prepare For A Teaching Career

Under the guidance of Miss McCampbell, the Future Teachers of America serves two purposes for the participating students at Clark. It provides an excellent opportunity for these high school students to further their interest and knowledge in the teaching profession by cadet teaching, and to participate in a service organization.

Each month speakers lecture to the club and share experiences with Clark's future educators. Some members participated in a special education conference at Purdue University.

F.T.A. OFFICERS — Kathy Broderick, Maureen Loden, Pat Boguslaw, Bev Liehe, and Beth Forbes discuss a money-making project to increase the Club treasury.

Stressing the importance of efficiency, Secretaries Club Officers Suzy Beegle and Elaine Gallas revise the itinerary of a monthly meeting.

The Future Secretaries Club provides information about the work of stenographers concerning duties, expectations, and the skills needed. Each month a former student of George Rogers Clark, who is working in the secretarial field gives an account of how she obtained her job and also, information on seeking, applying for, and keeping a job. The experiences, routines, responsibilities, required skills, and knowledge of grammar are discussed. With the ever-inspiring attitude of their sponsor, Miss Joan Coughlan, our Future Secretaries at Clark are well-informed.

In an effort to introduce new activities to the Clark student body, chess has been added to the already established clubs. Receiving enthusiastic response from both boys and girls, Chess Club will certainly remain at Clark. Beginning students are taught the rules of chess, while experienced chess players are given the opportunity to match minds and wits against fellow students.

Competition between club members was held in anticipation of choosing a chess club champion. All experienced club members were given the chance to participate. Individual games were held and finally Sophomore Allan Jamrose turned back all challengers and earned the award of Chess Club Champion.

The newly-formed club under the able leadership of Mr. Williamson prospered to great heights. With much student interests the future of the Club is bright.

A newly-formed club, the Physicians' Club, has proved to be a success at Clark. Boys and girls who want a profession in the medical world are urged to join this organization. Each student is given an insight into the role a doctor plays in our society. Each student must spend four hours each week working at Saint Margaret's Hospital in Hammond. This work will prepare the student to face his responsibilities as a doctor. The sponsor of this club, Miss Florence Miller, is the school nurse. Trained in her profession she is a capable leader of this club. Miss Miller hopes this before-hand view of a doctor's life will help these students to become better people and better doctors.

Literary Club Interprets Plays And Poetry

The purpose of the Library Club is to serve students and teachers. Each member is instructed in the fundamentals of the library: how to prepare books for circulation, how to repair damaged books, and how to check out books and magazines.

Two Library Club members, Barbara Spaulding and Janet Duncan, attended the Indiana University Workshop for Student Library Assistants. The purpose of the workshop was to further the knowledge and understanding of the library.

Closely related by an interest in books is the Literary Club. With Miss Carolyn Lambert as sponsor, the club broadens the members' literary horizons by discussions and interpretations of dramatic works. They discover the distinctive styles of poetry,

The group works in the laboratory and gets first-hand experience in animal dissection. Students are given a relatively free rein to explore as they please in the biological science they find most engrossing. They have at their disposal the very complete Clark lab with the sponsors acting to guide them through the labyrinth of the life sciences.

The Biology Club journeyed to Argonne National Laboratory and viewed some of the highly experimental projects of growing algae in heavy water as well as the lab's atomic equipment.

Hailing from Indianapolis, "The Boys Next Door," a group rapidly rising in popularity, delighted Clarkites with a "pop concert" in our own auditorium.

The Clark Hi-Y donated its services in various ways to the school and the community by contributing a gift basket of food to an under-privileged family during the holiday seasons. The club sold refreshments and checked coats for all school dances, in addition to the annual Hi-Y car wash. Hi-Y stresses the principles of service, fellowship, and leadership. The main project, a concert by "The Boys Next Door," filled the Hi-Y treasury and enabled the club to undertake many more worthwhile projects.

Dedicated to helping others by trained service, members of the Health Careers Club under the guidance of Miss Florence Miller are encouraged to render assistance in the community and at various hospitals. The girls hear speakers and use visual aids to get information about the fields of nursing and health such as X-ray, medical, dental and laboratory technology, occupational or physical therapy and hygienics.

The club gives generously of its time and money to service projects in the community and established associations such as the Beatty Hospital in Westville, the Illinois Epilepsy League, and the Lake County Crippled Children's Association.

All members of the club plan to make nursing a career and the able guidance of Miss Florence Miller is greatly appreciated.

Red Cross is an organization whose main purpose is to serve others. Some activities sponsored by this club were the collecting of warm clothing for children and the packing of a gift chest sent to India. The chest contained such items as first-aid, school supplies, sport equipment, musical items and health supplies. The group also visited St. Ann's Nursing home in Hammond and the Carmelite

Home for boys at Christmas time. Students also made and purchased articles needed by the Veteran's Hospital. The Red Cross again served as a very useful civic organization. Under the careful leadership of Miss Ide, the Red Cross fulfilled its duty to the school and community.

As the student body can well verify, this year as every year, the Stage Crew helped to make all Clark programs part of a year to remember.

With deadlines always just a week away, with picture schedules running behind time, with advertisers who are being difficult, with thousands of pictures without captions, the Powder Horn staff concentrates all its efforts toward a completed book.

Every person on the staff, from the typists to the editors, plays an important part in the unity of the yearbook. It is this teamwork that creates a reminiscence of the high school years.

The total picture of a school can only be represented through the activities of its students, therefore, the P.H. staff must be accurate while representing the total picture of the school year.

The success of the yearbook depends on many, not only on the hard work of the staff but the patience of the faculty who must tolerate the many intrusions. The effort required is astounding: each page requires a headline, pictures, captions, copy, correctly fitted, and proofreading.

Mr. George Muir, publications sponsor, patiently solved all our problems with understanding and tolerance.

Marilynn Murzyn and Beth Forbes, the dynamic duo, pause from their duties as literary editors and manage to make the job look like fun.

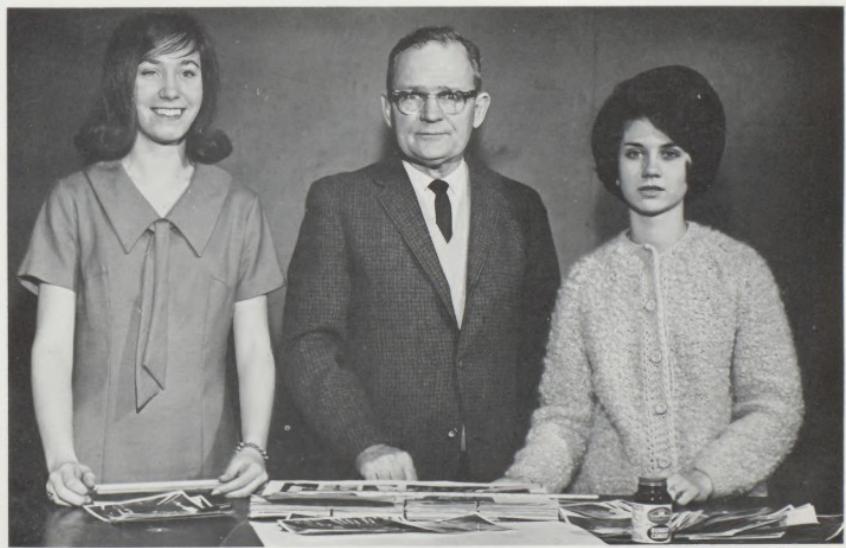

With Three-Column Layout

Picture editors Maureen Loden and Kathy Broderick realize the value of a "good print" and sort a stack of rejected proofs.

Handling the faculty section of the P.H., Jim Navta and Tessa Zajac see the importance of student-faculty cooperation.

Producing a yearbook is a challenging task. Editor Carol Leskovich and Sharon Granger often seek Mr. Muir's advice.

Weekly Paper Keeps Student Body

With a deadline in mind, P.N. Production editor Rosie Ihnat and Features editor Diane Krajnak "run off" a last few papers.

Editing a publication is time-consuming. Assistant editor Pat Boguslaw and Editor-in-chief Joan Paylo check a problem with Mr. Muir before making a final decision. The Pioneer News then goes to press.

The production staff makes certain that enough papers are folded and "blocked" for every Pioneer News weekly edition.

Well-Informed And Staff Busy

Under the able sponsorship of Mr. George Muir, the Pioneer News has completed its thirty-third year of publication.

All through the year, writers could be seen trying to find stories and the page editors could be seen trying to find writers. Typists cried over torn stencils, and paper folders cried over reams of paper. But the news continued to be reported. Much hidden work and thought went into the weekly publication of a newspaper. Pages must be laid out and headlines must be counted so that they fit exactly. News stories must be accurate and features stories must have human interest. Stencils have to be typed carefully and neatly.

A pictorial Christmas issue, a Thanksgiving issue, and the Senior edition highlighted the school year.

A good newspaper demands clever headlines. Pat Boguslaw and Jim Navta take a moment to check "heads" for an upcoming P.N. edition.

Staffs Enjoy Work While Preparing

Keeping tabs on all the sports, scores, and records of the year was the job of sports writers Bo Jarabak and Dan Carlson.

"A picture is worth a thousand words" . . . Al Graun, Powder Horn photographer, spent long hours taking, developing, and printing pictures for the yearbook.

Coach Al Peterson gives last minute instructions to defensive halfbacks George Yearsich and Jerry Milligan.

A speedy, rugged defense proved to be the keynote of the 1965 Clark gridiron team. Under the leadership of Coach Al Peterson, the Pioneers finished the season with a record of three wins, five losses, and one tie.

The high point of the season was a bone-crushing 6-6 deadlock with Hammond Tech. The Tech Tigers were ranked seventh in the state at the time — until they met the Pioneers. The Clark defense easily contained the vaulted Tech running attack and repeatedly stopped the Tiger passing game. The defense also set up Clark's lone touchdown, when linebacker Frank Sroka picked off a pass and ran it back to the Tech 20. On the next play, quarterback Don Abercrombie hit Denis Holmes on a 19-yard pass. One play later, Don twisted over for that one yard and those vital six points.

Halfback Dwane Duracz's fine punt return against Gavit is nullified by a teammate's clip.

Football Season Ends In Defeat,

Triumphs over East Chicago Washington, Highland, and Gavit gave Clark fans their happiest moments of 1965. The Washington victory was again a conquest for the defensive unit, while the offense provided the thrills in the Highland and Gavit clashes.

In individual statistics, Rich Bailey and Denis Holmes led the team in scoring with 18 points each. Rich scored his touchdowns on three runs, while Denis tallied his on two passes and a punt return.

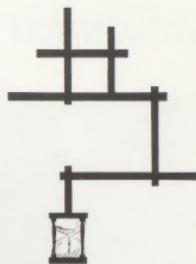

The 1966 season looks to be extremely promising. Three of the four starting backs are slated to return, including quarterback Don Abercrombie and running backs Jerry Milligan and Rich Bailey. Opening the holes for this tandem will be the rugged Clark line which includes six returning regulars. Among those back in the fall will be ends Wendell Turpin and Denis Holmes, and interior linemen Tom Yearsich, Don Fortener, John Buckner, and Len Shifflett.

In addition to these, seven other lettermen will be returning. These include Duane Duracz, Mike Dzurovick, Kevin Enright, Jesse Martinez, Ernie Offredo, Rich Yates, and George Yearsich.

Racketmen Gain Second Place In Conference

Pete Burkey reaches high for a slam shot as Bob Solkey watches. The Pioneer first doubles team proved to be a vital mainstay recording 8 victories and only 1 defeat.

The Clark racketmen under new coach Dave Hein finished in a tie for second in the Northwestern Indiana Conference this year. With only two returning lettermen, Dan Carlson and Bob Solkey, the netmen posted a surprising 7 victories and 2 defeats.

In their opening match the tennis Tigers drowned the Tolleston Blue Raiders 4-0 in a contest cut short by a downpour. The netmen met stubborn opposition in their next two matches, coming out on top against Valparaiso and E. C. Roosevelt by identical 3-2 scores. The Pioneers then made it four in a row by downing Lew Wallace 4-1.

The Heinsmen were upset by Horace Mann 3-2 for their first loss of the season, but bounced back by winning their next two matches without much difficulty. Hammond Tech and E. C. Washington were victims by successive shutouts, 5-0. The Racketmen next faced undefeated Hammond High in the most crucial match of the season. The less experienced tennis tigers turned pussycat in being outmanned 5-0 by a veteran Wildcat squad. The racketmen recovered, however, to end the season by over-powering Gary Roosevelt, 5-0.

Compile 7-2 Record With Three Shutouts

Third singles man Dave Winner executes an overhead smash during practice round prior to a match. He finished the season with a 9-2 record.

Bob Bubnovich, Clark's southpaw second singles man, attempts a difficult backhand shot before the singles tournament. Bob finished the year with a 8-4 record.

First singles man Dan Carlson follows through with a forehand shot in the daily routine of hard practice. Dan finished strong in the singles tournament, placing second and ending with a 6-6 record.

Underclassmen Brighten Grappler's Future

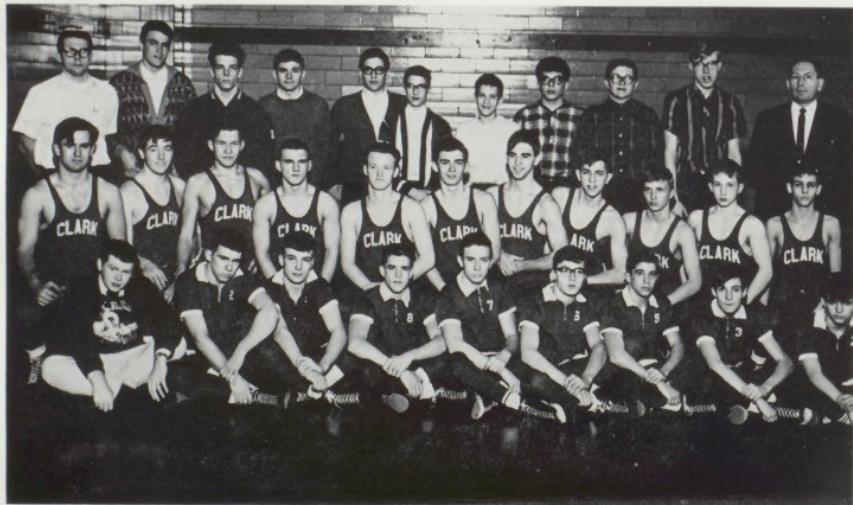

Coach Ray Williams' grapplers were plagued by inexperience this year; the varsity squad was aided by only four upper classmen. Despite the strong spirit characteristic of Clark wrestling, the effort only afforded a 1-11 record. After dropping the first meet to the Highland Trojans, the Pioneers defeated Washington 26-22, climaxed by John Buckner's 59 second pin. The Pioneer potential was again unleashed against Horace Mann as we came within two points of victory.

In the Conference matches, four Clark wrestlers placed: Mike Leland (112) placed first, Bill Domasica (103), Tom Carpenter (145), and John Buckner (180) all placed fourth. Leland, by winning the Western Division Conference went on to the Conference finals in which he again placed first. Sectional time showed only two Clark wrestlers placing: Mike Leland, first; and Bill Domasica, fourth.

Wrestler Mike Leland is caught in a familiar position. Mike had a very successful season, winning the sectionals and competing in the state meet.

Clark's Pioneer basketball team ended its season by losing to regional finalists Hammond High in their first game of the Hammond Sectionals. The loss gave the roundballers a 6-14 record for the 1965-1966 season.

The season opener saw Clark journey to Muncie to play the Muncie Central Bearcats and come out on the short end, 76-64. The round-ballers returned home only to lose to S. B. Washington 73-46, Hammond High 72-56, Horace Mann 71-64, and E. C. Roosevelt 77-43.

Clark stopped the skid by upsetting Gary Tolleston, the first victory over Tolleston in eight years, 54-52 after trailing by as much as 14 points in the third quarter. The Pioneer's all out effort against Tolleston worked to Hobart's favor the next night 80-

72. The roundballers bounced back against Lew Wallace 80-78. The Holiday Tourney saw Clark and new coach Dave Hein eliminated by Bishop Noll 71-58.

Opening the new year, the Pioneers were ready for the "must game" and trounced cross-town rival Whiting 76-58. Washington stymied the Pioneers 78-39, but a win over Gavit and a 74-52 job on Munster lifted the Pioneers. A four game losing streak ensued with Tech, Valpo, Morton, and Griffith subduing the Pioneers by sizeable margins. Balanced scoring, and scrappy play enabled the roundballers to edge Emerson 67-65, with a basket at the final buzzer.

The courtmen closed out the regular season by losing to Gary Froebel 96-49.

A maximum defensive effort by Jim Ulm forces Valpo's Steve Seelig to hurry his shot while Don Abercrombie prepares for a possible rebound.

Freshmen, B-Squad Gain Experience, Point

Coach Hein explains what to do next during a vital time out late in the game against Emerson. The scrappy play of the determined Pioneers ended in their comeback victory that was decided by a last second basket.

Bob Poppen leaps high before releasing a jump shot in a winning effort against Emerson.

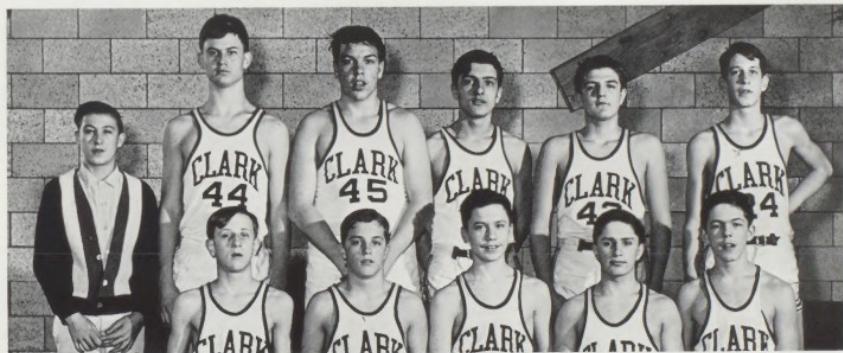

Clark B-squad opened its basketball season by losing to S. B. Washington. The Settlers then defeated Hammond High and Horace Mann before losing to Tolleston. Next they beat Hobart but failed in their following encounter with Lew Wallace. Hammond High avenged an early season loss by defeating the B-squad in the tourney. The Settler's nipped cross-town rival (44-40) Whiting before being trounced by E.C.W. The Settlers lost a close one to Gavit by (44-41), but then clobbered Munsters young Mustangs (52-34). The Jayvees suffered losses to Tech, Valpo, and Morton before beating Griffith and Emerson. The Settler's closed the season with a loss to Frobel but posted a respectable 7-9 record under first year coach Dick Daugherty.

Toward Varsity Positions In 1967 Season

B-SQUAD BASKETBALL — K. Brackett, J. Pavlovich, B. Solkey, C. Foreman, L. Burch, B. Navta, Coach Daugherty, Ruf, T. Shimala, D. Holmes, G. Yearsich, W. Turpin, K.

With seven victories from a thirteen game schedule the Homesteaders produced a winning basketball team. In 1965-66 they continued the promising show of five wins in the previous season. First victories, over

E. C. Roosevelt and Whiting, came on successive days and followed a football season that prepared the boys for the stamina test of basketball which continues from early December until February.

Harriers Look To Future; Frosh Win City

In the words of a certain Hammond Sportswriter, "Cross-country isn't a sport, it's an exercise in the theory that the mind is stronger than the body." The Clark Cross-Country team of 1965, with Coach Shields at the helm, proved this statement and showed the way for greatness in the coming years.

The team this past year has developed a type of mental pugnacity and sense of togetherness not seen in other years and other teams. Although this past year was only a "rebuilding year", the runners often rose to the occasion at their meets.

The varsity, led by letterwinners D. Kirk, J. Schaffenberger, T. Whiteside, M. Leland, B. Bo-bin, and M. Duhon, had a reasonably good year with a record of six wins and twelve defeats. Their wins came against such teams as Munster, Tech, Morton, ECW, and Whiting.

The frosh-soph team ran even better, posting a 17-8 record over all, beating such teams as Gavit, Whiting, Morton, and Noll among others. One of the really bright points of the year for Coach Shields was the frosh victory in the city, beating all competition.

Taking the frosh victory, the frosh-soph record and runners, and the fact that Darryl Kirk will be the only varsity runner lost through graduation points out a brilliant future for the Harriers of Clark.

Pioneer distance ace Darryl Kirk puts forth his final effort in gaining a first place finish in a cross country meet at Forsythe Park.

VARSITY GOLF — N. Bubnovich, R. Matlon, J. Ruf, R. Weiner, B. Bubnovich.

Unwilling to take a penalty stroke, Rick Matlon blasts from the edge of the water at Lake Hills.

The Clark teebreakers, under the direction of Coach Oral Watkins, posted a commendable 9-15 record for the 1965 season. Although the team featured two seniors, junior Bob Bubnovich was the only one having previous varsity experience. The season was highlighted by conference competition, the Dyer Invitational, the Sectionals, and the Hammond City Tourney. The duffers rallied from a slow start to earn a 5-4 conference record, finished 25th in the 37 team Dyer Invitational, placed 15th out of 26 in the Sectionals, and 5th out of 6 in the Hammond City tourney.

Medalist Bob Bubnovich blasts out of a sand trap in a practice round at Tod Park.

Bob Bubnovich led the squad with a 44.2 average.

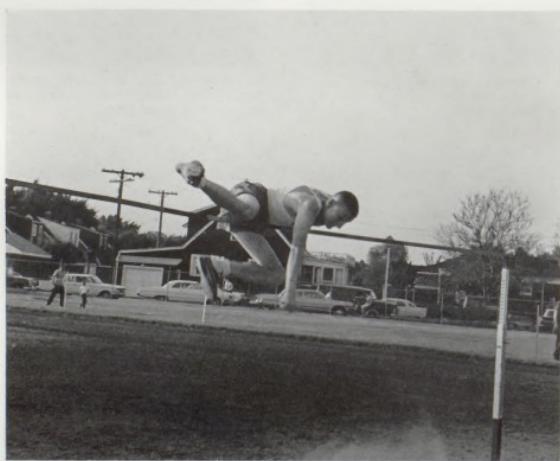

The 1966 team is expected to be one of the finest and most experienced golf teams Clark has ever had. The four returning lettermen, Bob Bubnovich, Rich Matlon, Ron Warner and Rick Weiner will carry the golf burden now that seniors Jim Ruf and Nick Bubnovich have graduated. Even though next year's team will be young, experience from past years is a bright characteristic for the future of the golf team. Underclassmen are also included in the scheme for future strength.

Senior Paul Ratkovich, Clark's high jump expert, strains to clear the bar for valuable points. Paul was highly successful in season competition.

Under the expert leadership of Coach Ed Powell, Clark's varsity and Frosh-Soph track teams completed another successful season. The highlight of the season was the 18-team Clark Relays. In this annual event, which was held for the first time "under the lights", Clark finished third in their division, even though they suffered an unfortunate disqualification in one of the relays. Other notable finishes by the varsity were an overwhelming victory over Whiting and a fine second place finish to a strong Froebel team in a quadrangle meet.

Perhaps the most outstanding record, and the one which offers the most promise for future Clark track successes, was the excellent performance of the Frosh-Soph cindermen. During the season, the Frosh-Soph captured first place finishes seven times in nine outings, and finished second the other two times. Included in these wins were victories in the City Indoor and the Clark Frosh-Soph Relays.

Two varsity school records fell during the year. One of these was the mile record which was broken by Bob Hatczel. The mile, which Bob ran in 4:32.0 was labelled as one of the fastest miles run during the 1965 season. The varsity mile relay team also established a mark for future Clark teams to shoot at. The relay team, consisting of Rich Bailey, Bob Hatczel, Daryl Kirk, and Tom Vrabel, ran the mile in 3:31.8 to break the old record. In addition to these marks, eight Frosh-Soph and four freshman records also were broken.

Whiting, 5-4 In 14 Game Schedule

Half-concealing an over-all record of 3 wins, 11 losses, the Stickballers finished their conference record at 2 wins against 8 losses. A sputtering start caught the Pioneers on the short end of a 1-0 opening game against the Highland Trojans. Bob Harper helped the Pioneers bounce back with a 6-0 trouncing of the Gavit Gladiators on a frozen Purdue North field.

It was at this point that Pioneer luck severely trailed off with the hardballers dropping five in a row. The Tech Tigers caught the Aldrichmen on the rebound, and were stunned by Tom Strbjak's game-winning double. Hammond's Wildcats marooned the Piratemen 18-5, while East Chicago Roosevelt and Washington held the team to one run apiece.

The season was highlighted by a sparkling victory over the Western Conference champions, and cross-town rivals, the Whiting

Oilers. The pitching of Bob Harper, shining outfield play of Greg Rosen, and sheer determination on behalf of all the players, placed the overconfident Oilers on the bottom, 5-4. Next in line, the Tech Tigers, insured the baseballers of a cellar-birth by dropping them, 10-6. Though the season proved to be dismal with a .214 team playing percentage, hopes are high for next year with nine returning lettermen.

C-Club Members Transformed To Bakers

C-Club members have combined their talents this year to make the club more active. The boys became cooks for a day when they held a very successful first, a bake sale. A consistent money-making project is the sale of popcorn every day after school. C-Club members also serve as ushers at all home games. At the Sectionals, all C-Club members form a section of the cheering block. C-Club members also serve as escorts, for the queen and attendants at Homecoming. An athlete can become a member of this club by excelling in a sport and earning his letter.

C-CLUB OFFICERS — D. Abercrombie, J. Grigson, and J. Matlon.

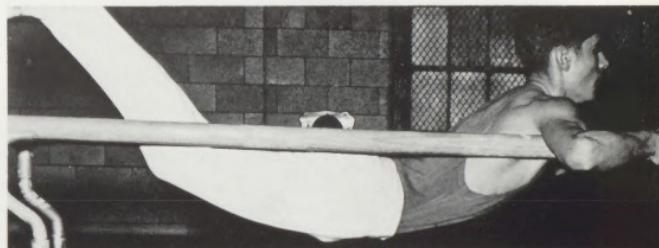

With supervision, a beginning gymnast attempts a flip on the trampoline.

Clark's tumbling club has expanded this year with a gymnast's club. These boys perform intricate maneuvers on the parallel bars, trampoline, and exercise horse, as well as doing free exercise. Added importance has been placed on gymnastics in Hammond so this will be a rapidly expanding club. Led by Coach

Franklin the gymnasts were very successful in season competition.

The club is composed of eight members, but added interest in gymnastics is increasing steadily. This year the gymnasts have journeyed to other schools to compete and meets have also been held here in the Clark gymnasium.

Physical Fitness Stressed In Curriculum

Daily calisthenics are part of a routine which comprises a typical gym class so that young Americans keep fit.

After receiving thorough instruction about the fundamentals and techniques of basketball, the girls' gym classes attempt a game of basketball.

Clark's Varsity, B-Squad, and Freshman Cheerleaders kept spirit alive at all games. Besides leading cheers, they organized pep rallies and made tags. Miss Myers sponsors the cheerleaders. The cheerleaders decorated a car for the 4th of July parade and for the Homecoming parade and taught the student body new cheers and cheering techniques. The varsity cheerleaders also instruct girls who wish to become B-squad cheerleaders. At the sectional pep assembly, the varsity cheerleaders were presented with silver megaphones.

In gym classes, boys and girls learn the rules of common games and how to play them correctly. Carrying out the physical fitness program, calisthenics and exercises are a daily routine.

"Wanna buy a taffy apple?" In its biggest money-making project of the year, G. A. C. sold candy, hot chocolate and coffee, and taffy apples at home football games. This money helped to pay for Thanksgiving baskets, the picnic, and the climax of a sport-filled year — the Girls' Athletic Club Banquet.

Four sports dominated school hours. During the first semester, members concentrated on softball and swimming. After the Christmas vacation, eager bowlers created a din with the crash of lofted balls, and tense teams played hard during the all-important basketball tourney. The winning basketball team and the high-average bowlers received trophies at the Mother-Daughter Banquet in the spring.

Student Council Initiates Intramural Pool

The Hustler, Jeff Grigson carefully plans his next shot during intramural pool.

Intramural bowling provides after-school relaxation for athletic-minded Clarkites.

The word to describe this year's Student Council Intramural sports program is successful. Students eagerly participated in intramural basketball, bowling, volleyball, and the newly-formed sports of pool and a tug-o-war.

For the third year intramural basketball proved to be a great success. More than one hundred boys took part in the program which was held on Saturday mornings. Teams captains were selected, and ten basketball teams were formed. Good sportsmanship and team participation were stressed.

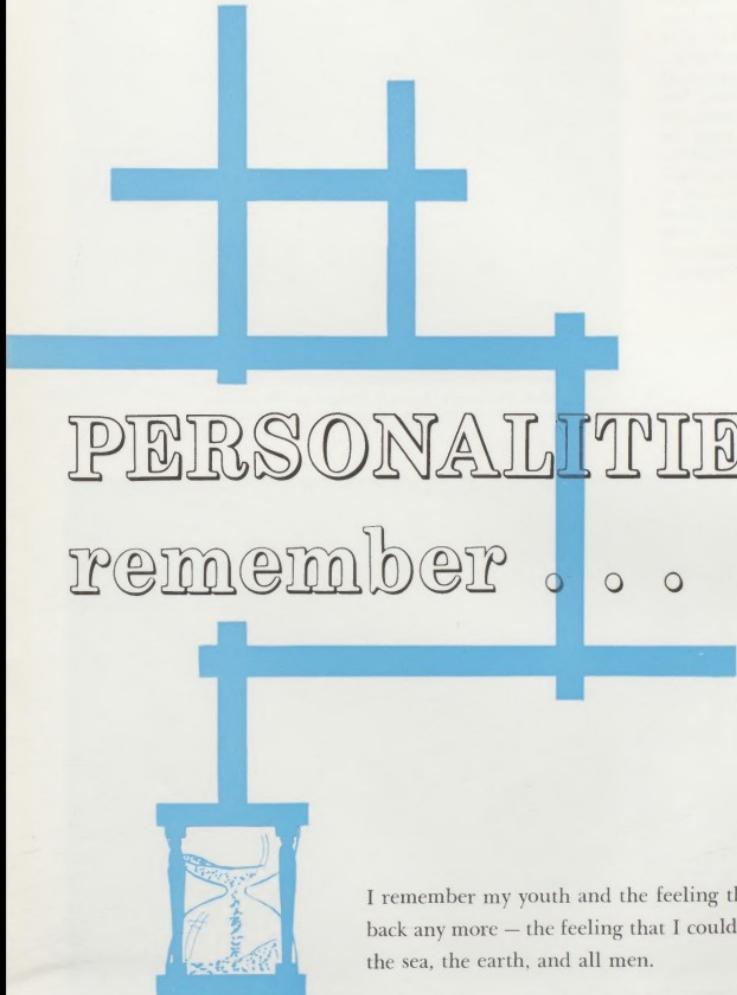

This year much interest was aroused by the bowling program. More than one hundred fifty Clarkites participated in this sport. Trophies were awarded to the best team and to the boy and girl bowling the highest game.

Intramural volleyball once again proved to be the most successful sport. A tournament was set up with competition between the members of each homeroom. The winning homeroom received a plaque designating their victory.

For the first time in Clark's history a pool tournament was held. Teams were picked and a round-robin tournament was set up. Games were played at the pool tables at the same time bowlers were on the alleys.

Clarkites showed their muscles at the tug-o-war. Classes wore their class colors as seniors competed against sophomores, and juniors against freshman. Due to the great response and approval by Clarkites, Student Council planned another tug-o-war for the spring.

School Board Expands Innovations

The Hammond Board of Education, under the capable direction of Superintendent of Hammond public schools, Joseph Hendricks, has a great deal of influence on the student school lives.

The school board appropriates funds for various projects. Not only does the board direct the funds, but it also arranges for the completion of these projects.

IBM report cards and scheduling were innovations occurring throughout the Hammond school system. The athletic field house at Clark field was constructed from funds allotted by the system.

Superintendent, Dr. Joseph Hendricks directed the Hammond Public School System, his objective being progressive education.

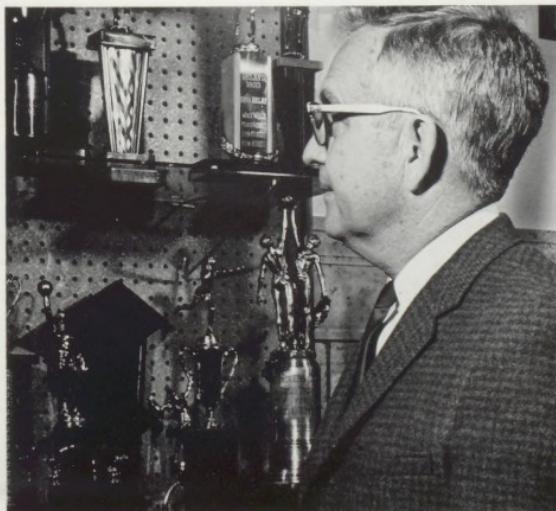

Members of the Board of Education, Mrs. Allen, board member; Mrs. Stern, secretary; Mr. Scott, board member; Dr.

Eggers, president, and Mr. Borcelos, treasurer, helped administer policies of the public school system.

Lockey Maintains Efficient Administration

Mr. D. D. Lockey our principal, wholeheartedly supports school activities and effectively maintains faculty-student relations to keep Clark running smoothly.

Mr. Lockey proudly views trophies which have brought fame and recognition to Clark.

As principal, Mr. Durward D. Lockey, an active member and past president of the Hammond Lions Club, is the supervisor of all school activities at Clark. Mr. Lockey takes an active role in the functions of the First Methodist Church of Hammond, and has served as past colonel in the Community Chest Drive.

Athletics rate high on his list of interests; he enjoys golfing and bowling, and has been dubbed Clark's "Number One Booster." During the spring and summer months, Mr. Lockey also devotes time to gardening.

Commenting on his philosophy to students, Mr. Lockey advises that throughout life "When you play, play hard, and when you work, work hard."

Are you confused by the activities of high school life? Do you wonder if college is for you? If your answer is yes, head toward the guidance office immediately. Don't hesitate to ask our counselors any questions pertaining to furthering your education. Our counselors are more than happy to help any Clark student. Clark's counselors are trained to help young people with their problems and to give advice. There is not a situation that these capable people cannot handle. Clark's four helpful guidance directors, Mr. Arnold Corder, Miss Edna Howe, Mr. Raymond Buell, and Mr. Edwin Martin are ready and eager to provide a suitable solution for you. They will help choose a college, apply for a scholarship, and select an ideal career.

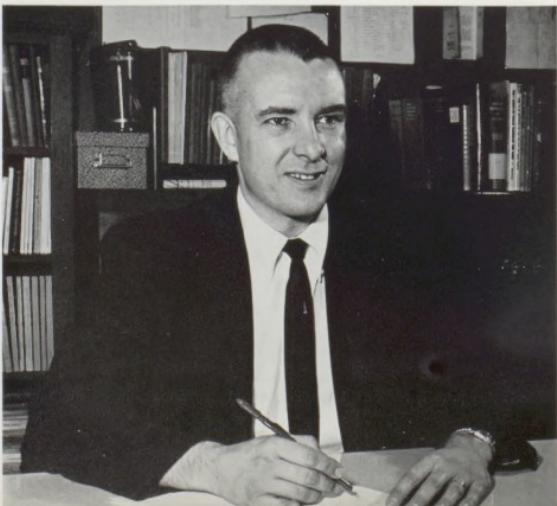

Miss Edna Howe, Sophomore Class and girls' counselor, attended Iowa State College and earned a Ph.M. at the University of Wisconsin.

Four Counselors Aid Mr. Lockey And Assist

Miss Edna Howe attended the State College of Iowa and later entered the University of Wisconsin where she earned her Ph.M. She is the supervisor of the testing program at Clark, Sophomore class counselor and Girls' counselor. In her spare time, Miss Howe enjoys reading and listening to music.

Mr. Raymond A. Buell earned a B.S. degree at Indiana State University and received his M.S. degree at Indiana University. He is the Senior class counselor and Clark's Director of Attendance. During his leisure hours, Mr. Buell may be found golfing, gardening, or bowling.

Mr. Buell, Senior Class Counselor, helps prepare students for college and future careers. He has guided the class of 1966 through four difficult years.

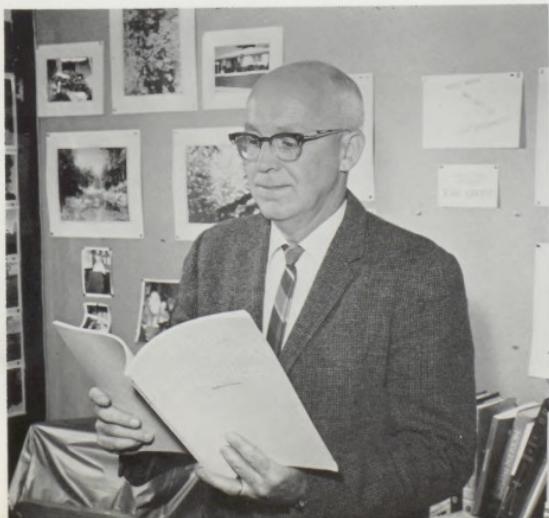

Assistant principal, Mr. Arnold Corder, is also Director of Guidance. Mr. Corder graduated from Indiana State, and received his M.S. from I.U.

Mr. Arnold Corder received his B.S. degree at Indiana State and his M.S. degree at Indiana University. He is Clark's Assistant Principal, Director of Guidance, and Boy's Counselor. In his free time, Mr. Corder enjoys gardening, sports, traveling, reading, and taking part in civic organizations.

Students In Preparing For The Future

Mr. Edwin Martin is Freshman-Sophomore counselor. He graduated from Indiana State with a B.S. and earned an M.S. at New York University.

Mr. Edwin Martin, earning his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Indiana State and New York University respectively, is the counselor to the Freshmen and Sophomore classes. He enjoys athletics in general, and has occasion to get into the swing of things at the golf course.

They Taught Us Well, And Prepared Us

The office staff works conscientiously to help keep the school running efficiently and cooperatively.

The G.R.C. cooks are notorious for their friendliness and diligent effort in preparing the nutritious meals served at the cafeteria.

Some of the hardest workers at Clark are the members of the office staff. Constantly answering the telephone, filing, figuring, typing, opening jammed lockers, selling supplies at the school bookstore, and keeping tab on most other school business, these ladies make sure that the office and school run as smoothly as possible.

Clark's janitors work long hours to make the school's interior and exterior a tribute to the community. We will always remember their cheerful greetings as they hustled about their duties.

Our cafeteria staff plans and prepares delicious, well-balanced meals.

We Know That 'Yesterday's Gone' And

The honor of being a Senior Class Officer is worth the effort that the job demands. Dan Carlson, president, Sharon Granger, secretary, Judy Kmetz, treasurer, and Tim Hovanec, vice-president, handled class affairs for 1966.

The Class of 1966 officially began in September, 1962, under the sponsorship of Mr. Oral Watkins and Mr. Michael Hriso.

Our first major undertaking as freshmen was the election of class officers. "Bossa Nova Bounce" our first class dance was the most remembered event of our frosh year.

In the early part of our soph year, we chose class rings. Next, we again presented a class dance, "Sugar Shack Shambles."

As Juniors, we produced our play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" and worked diligently on our Prom, "Prelude to an Ending."

At last we were seniors! Our senior class dance, 'Yesterday's Gone', the ordering of name cards and announcements, the fittings for our caps and gowns, our senior banquet, baccalaureate, and commencement will remain in our thoughts forever. Our four years of high school especially our last year were truly years to remember. As we go into the future we can never forget the experiences and memories Clark has given us, and we'll never forget 1966, our year.

We Prepare For Opportunities Of Tomorrow

Senior Class Queen and King, Juanita Rokita and Jeff Grigson, reigned over the successful Senior Class Dance.

Senior girls, transformed into Mary Poppins' maids, "feed the cats strychnine" at the Homecoming pep assembly to cheer the team to victory against Hammond High.

Class sponsors Mr. Oral Watkins and Mr. Michael Hriso have sacrificed countless hours regulating activities of the class of 1966.

The Junior Class returned for their third year at Clark and elected class officers. The first activity was Homecoming and the "Class of '67", for the second straight year, captured first place with their float, "Monstro the Whale". The class play "Our Town" was the first drama to be staged at Clark in many years. The Juniors worked hard and the play proved to be a tremendous success. Much credit must be given to those in the cast and on the many play committees. The Juniors had their first dance after Lent and with many hard hours work made it a success. The Prom, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was held at the Windermere Hotel May 20, 1966.

With the opening of the school year, many intriguing experiences awaited the class of '68. Besides the usual activities, several others were founded. Class unity also played a vital part in a successful year. The class began the year by sponsoring a "Squires Concert." Not only was this their first money-making project, but it was also the first time it was ever attempted in the school by a class. To the sophomores, Homecoming was something special. Not only had they captured second place with their float, "Dumbo," but also won first place for Home Room sign. Excitement marched on as the class of '68 received their rings. On "Service Day" the entire class participated in performing odd jobs on the donation basis.

FROSH OFFICERS — B. Talabay, president; Mr. Majcher, sponsor; B. Winebarer, treasurer; S. Milligan, secretary; Mrs. Snider, sponsor; S. Murphree, vice-president.

The Freshman class began an active first year with the election of officers. Their class dance "Good News Week" was the highlight of their first school year. After working long and hard they proved to themselves that they, too, were capable of creating a successful dance. After a year of hard work, freshmen finally gained their place at George Rogers Clark.

Mrs. Snider and Mr. Majcher have sponsored the Class of 1969.

In our recruiting we ask that applicants have completed their High School education. That's because we try always to fill higher, more responsible jobs from the ranks of our employees. And the records show—the better the employee's education, the better he is at his job—and the better he does for himself.

Inland employees continue to gain knowledge and experience in special trades through formal apprenticeship programs offered in the following trades—Machinist, Patternmaking, Boilmaking, Welding, Shop Electrician, Wireman, Mason and Pipefitter.

Many concentrate on certain phases of steelmaking by working in production while others work in laboratories helping to assure quality or developing new and better products for our customers.

How about you? Inland Steel is steadily expanding. More and more opportunities will be open to you as our growth continues. Are you ready?

"Only a moment; a moment of strength, of romance, of glamour — of youth! . . . a flick of sunshine upon a strange shore, the time to remember, the time for a sigh . . ." The words of Joseph Conrad poignantly describe 1966 as a time of youth I can never forget. It was a year which passed like a moment, but the memories of 1966 will remain with me forever. I will always remember the panic of our final deadline, the unsuspected problems we always overcame, and our sheer delight when the Powder Horn was finally done. I deeply appreciate the ever-enduring patience and help of Mr. Muir and the many people who took pictures, wrote copy, identified pictures, solicited ads, sold subscriptions, and accomplished all the necessary tasks in order to tell the story of our school year. To all of you who helped make 1966 a moment to remember, my heartfelt thanks.
